

Department of English & Writing Studies
Film Studies Program

Film 3368F (001)
FILM PRODUCTION

Fall 2023

Antirequisites: The former Film Studies 2270F/G

Prerequisites: At least 60% in Film Studies 1020E or Film Studies 1022, or 1.0 of English 1000-1999 plus English 2112F/G, Film 2212F/G, or Theatre Studies 2212F/G, or permission of the department.

Unless you have either the requisites for this course or written special permission from your Dean to enroll in it, you may be removed from this course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees if you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites.

Course Description

This course will explore the stylistic functions of basic film elements, e.g., camera movement, editing, sound, and colour, through the analysis and production of films. You will practice storytelling skills and evaluate various AI-powered script generation tools and platforms available, considering factors such as ease of use, customization options, and output quality.

Students will work through a series of collaborative studio projects aimed at developing knowledge and technical proficiency regarding: pre-production planning and scriptwriting, composition and visual communication, manual camera control, colour grading, lighting, audio recording and sound design, as well as editing and stylization in post-production.

Studio production and experimentation will be complemented by online technical demonstrations, lectures, readings, discussions, and viewings aimed at developing critical response skills, conceptual foundations, and language appropriate for image evaluation and analysis. These will provide students with versatile tools and approaches through which ideas about filmmaking may be explored, and developed, culminating in a video production project. Remote production techniques related to the pandemic will be explored if necessary.

No prior experience with digital technology and/or video production is required.

Objectives:

Upon completing the course, you will be able to:

- Effectively use a DV camera in manual shooting mode to focus, white balance, adjust exposure and audio levels.
- Apply conventions of shot framing, movement, sequencing and continuity.
- Effectively use the Final Cut Pro X, or Davinci Resolve Non-linear editing software.
- Demonstrate an understanding of basic approaches to studio and outdoor reflective lighting.
- Effectively select and use appropriate technology for audio capture and sound design.
- Effectively use primary and secondary colour grading tools for colour design.
- Critically evaluate how meaning is generated through the organization and manipulation of sound and image, over time.
- Actively and constructively engage in critiques of peer's work, and integrate feedback to further develop their own work.
- Use the terminology of video production to articulate ideas and intents in a clear, effective, and professional manner.

Course Materials

- Required Text: available at the Book store -How to Shoot Video that Doesn't Suck by Steve Stockman ISBN: 978-0-7611-6323-7
- SDHC or SDXC card class 10. A Micro SD card in an adapter will also work. A 64GB card will be adequate. (only required using a school camera or recording device)
- A laptop/desktop computer and external hard drive (recommended: 4TB, Headphones with 1/8" plug (preferably not ear buds) would be an asset.
- A non-linear digital editing program. Davinci Resolve can be downloaded for free but requires a robust computer with adequate RAM. Final Cut Pro X is recommended for Mac users and Adobe Premier Pro is available by subscription. IF YOU USE ANOTHER NLE IT MUST HAVE SCOPES FOR COLOUR AND A BUILT IN DAW (Digital Audio Workstation)
- School equipment is available for sign out. Create an account at ArtsGear
- Instructional videos and other supplementary material will be posted on OWL.

Contingency plan for an in-person class pivoting to 100% online learning

- In the event of a COVID-19 resurgence during the course that necessitates the course delivery moving away from face-to-face interaction, affected course content will be delivered entirely online, either synchronously (i.e., at the times indicated in the timetable) or asynchronously (e.g., posted on OWL for students to view at their convenience). The grading scheme will not change. Any remaining assessments will also be conducted online as determined by the course instructor.

Methods of Evaluation

The grade for the course will be arrived at as follows:

Assignments

Assignments are designed to incorporate ideas and approaches learned both in class and through independent practice and experimentation. Students are encouraged to challenge themselves to explore, personalize, and expand on the creative potential of these skill sets. There is no final written exam.

Student performance will be evaluated in terms of technical proficiency, conceptual focus, synthesis, and work ethic. Successful projects will clearly demonstrate knowledge in four key areas:

- preproduction - research/planning,
- production, - capture of video/audio, and experimentation,
- post production effective editing including synchronizing audio and video, and color grading.
- distribution exporting video using an appropriate codec for YouTube and use on social media.

A 5% penalty may be deducted from assignments submitted late, or those not presented in the required format. It is the student's responsibility to remain informed as to submission details and requirements. Assignments without official documentation will not be accepted after grades have been released. By communicating/negotiating with the instructor before missing a due date you may avoid penalty.

Note: You may negotiate a change in any given project. If you have an idea for a different project speak to Greg De Souza and prepare a written project proposal showing how your project will illustrate the same elements of the project you are substituting. You must complete 5 of the 6 mini assignments. You may choose to opt out of either assignment 5 or 6

Value of Assignments

- Mini Assignments Portfolio 45%(best 5/6)
- Practical Editing quiz 5%
- Culminating Project 1 20%
- Culminating Project 2 30%

Please note: The Department of English & Writing Studies does not release final grades. All undergraduate grade reports will be available online from the Office of the Registrar.

Excessive absenteeism, amounting to more than 25% of class time (i.e. 10 hours for a 0.5 course) will result in failure in the course .

Important Sessional Dates

Accommodation and Accessibility

Students seeking academic accommodation on medical grounds for any missed tests, exams, participation components and/or assignments worth 10% or more of their final grade must apply to the Academic Counselling office of their home Faculty and provide documentation. Academic accommodation cannot be granted by the instructor or department. Documentation shall be submitted, as soon as possible, to the Office of the Dean of the student's Faculty of registration, together with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested. The UWO Policy on Accommodation for Medical Illness and further information regarding this policy can be found at http://uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/accommodation_medical.pdf.

Religious Accommodation

When a course requirement conflicts with a religious holiday that requires an absence from the University or prohibits certain activities, students should request accommodation for their absence in writing at least two weeks prior to the holiday to the course instructor and/or the Academic Counselling office of their Faculty of Registration. Please consult University's list of recognized religious holidays (updated annually) at <https://multiculturalcalendar.com/ecal/index.php?s=c-univwo>.

Accommodation Policies

Students with disabilities are encouraged to contact Accessible Education, which provides recommendations for accommodation based on medical documentation or psychological and cognitive testing. The policy on Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities can be found at:

Academic Offences

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf

8. Support Services

Academic Counselling

Your Home Faculty's Academic Counselling or Academic Advising Office will support or refer whenever you have an issue that is affecting your studies, including information on adding/dropping courses, academic considerations for absences, appeals, exam conflicts, and many other academic related matters. Do not hesitate to reach out to them if you are struggling and unsure where to go for help. Contact info for all Faculties is here: https://registrar.uwo.ca/faculty_academic_counselling.html

Mental Health Support

Students who are in emotional/mental distress should refer to Mental Health@Western (<https://uwo.ca/health/>) for a complete list of options about how to obtain help.

Gender-Based and Sexual Violence

Western is committed to reducing incidents of gender-based and sexual violence and providing compassionate support to anyone who has gone through these traumatic events. If you have experienced sexual or gender-based violence (either recently or in the past), you will find information about support services for survivors, including emergency contacts at https://www.uwo.ca/health/student_support/survivor_support/get-help.html.

To connect with a case manager or set up an appointment, please contact support@uwo.ca.

Accessible Education

Please contact the course instructor if you require lecture or printed material in an alternate format or if any other arrangements can make this course more accessible to you. You may also wish to contact Accessible Education at http://academicsupport.uwo.ca/accessible_education/index.html

if you have any questions regarding accommodations.

Learning Development and Success

Counsellors at the Learning Development and Success Centre (<https://learning.uwo.ca>) are ready to help you improve your learning skills. They offer presentations on strategies for improving time management, multiple-choice exam preparation/writing, textbook reading, and more. Individual support is offered throughout the Fall/Winter terms in the drop-in Learning Help Centre, and year-round through individual counselling.

Digital Student Experience

Western University is committed to a thriving campus as we deliver our courses in the mixed model of both virtual and face-to-face formats. We encourage you to check out the Digital Student Experience website to manage your academics and well-being: <https://www.uwo.ca/se/digital/>.

USC

Additional student-run support services are offered by the USC, <https://westernusc.ca/services/>.
